*Aurora I, originally Satcom V, is owned by Alascom but operated by GE Americom.

The sale of SBS I and SBS II to Comsat was approved by the FCC in July 1988; they and Comstar birds are kept in use by Comsat's tracking antenna system. Comstar birds are located in same orbital slot. Although each satellite has 24 transponders, only a total of 24 can be used at one time.

The FCC approved sale of Westar system to Hughes Communications November 1988.

Radio Formats and Special Programing by State and Province

This special section is an expanded version of the Broadcasting/Cable Yearbook's Radio Formats by State index, originally introduced with the 1987 edition.

This section was compiled from the information contained in the Yearbook's computer database of all radio stations in the United States and Canada. It includes the number of AM and FM stations in each state, along with a breakdown of the number of commercial and noncommercial stations, followed by a ranked tally of formats used in that state. Totals for the programing formats in the United States and Canada appear on pages F-116.

Formats and special programing defined

The Yearbook defines a radio format as programing broadcast over 20 hours weekly. Programing broadcast from one to 20 hours weekly is defined as Special Programing, and is listed in separate indexes, beginning on page F-117, for the U.S., and on page F-119 for Canada.

The majority of U.S. stations, 8,137, broadcast one specific type of format, but over 2,100 stations report using two or more programing formats. In this edition of the Yearbook, 1,701 stations reported the use of two formats, while 423 stations reported three separate formats. The remainder, 1,161 stations had no format information available.

Stations reporting four or more formats are listed in the indexes as Diverse. The format "Other" represents stations in which programing did not fit into any of the 65 Yearbook format classifications.

The programing information listed in the following pages is a summation of all formats reported by radio stations licensed to a specific state, so the total number of formats in each state will generally be greater than the total number of AM and FM stations.

The Yearbook allows a radio station to report as many as 10 special programing formats. As with the Formats by State listings, Special Programing is a summation that follows the above-mentioned guidelines.

Please see the chart on page F-120 for a breakdown of radio programing by AM/FM and commercial/noncommercial for the U.S. and Canada.

Notes: Figures compiled from BROADCASTING's YEARBOOK computer database. Radio formats are defined as programing in excess of 20 hours per week; formats broadcast fewer than 20 hours are defined as special programing. Radio stations may report up to three separate programing formats, and up to 10 special programing formats. Stations reporting more than three formats are classified as Variety/Diversified. The format "Other" represents stations in which programing did not fit into any of the 66 YEARBOOK format classifications.

Radio and Television Audiences

Radio and Television were in more U.S. homes than ever as 1989 approached.

Radio. The Radio Advertising Bureau estimated that 89.9 million U.S. homes, 99%, were radio-equipped as of Jan 1, 1988.

Radio Sets. The number of working order radio sets in the U.S. totaled 527.4 million in 1988, according to estimates by the Radio Advertising Bureau. RAB estimated that 342 million of these were home and personal radio sets and 185.4 million were out of home receivers.

*Prior to 1971, data reflects factory sales by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. All import statistics are based on average value as published by the U.S. Department of Commerce, which is F.O.B. and therefore excludes U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S. and insurance.
